Parents Are Unsafe

One Minute SUMMARY

What is Language Contamination?

Language Contamination is the main tactic of a Critical Race Theorist or Transgender Child Mutilation Advocate (CMA). Every word or phrase they use does not mean what you think it means; they use your vocabulary but not your dictionary. Recognizing “Language Contamination” will help you understand their strategies so that you do not get lulled into complacency or guilted into silence.

Why should parents care about this resource?

The lies and attitudes highlighted here reflect those of school counselors and other “mental health professionals” to justify removing your children from your custody.

Who is this profile?

He is a typical Transgender Cultist and Child Mutilation Advocate. The gaslighting tactics he uses against parents will be very similar to those heard during school board meetings and legislative sessions to pass Transgender Trafficking Bills.

PARENTS ARE THE ABUSERS

Parents who have the most access to their children are 'controlling' and 'grooming their own children.' This same argument will be made against homeschooling.

You're wrong. The reason kids get groomed and abused is because they don't have safe spaces from their parents. People that are isolated and alone are easier to abuse.

Think about who has the most access to a minor, who has the most legal control over them, and who has the biggest motivation to maintain that control. It isn't teachers or drag queens. It's conservative parents.

A hallmark of being a teenager are claims of emotional unresale. Taking advantage of this is frankly evil.

Then tell parents to stop grooming them and isolating them from their peers.

You're making the assumption that parents are never complicit in abusing or grooming their kids. On the contrary, it's the fact that they have such a privileged legal position in children's lives that makes it easier to abuse them.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @TidalPolitics @RealUtahMan and 2 others

No, it's realistic. Think about the standpoint of abusive parents. They are going to be hyper focused on isolating their victims from any outlet. It's very similar to how abusive spouses fight against any recourse their victim might have in leaving or getting help.

PARENTS ARE ISOLATING THEIR CHILDREN

COMPREHENSIVE SEX ED

Sexualize elementary school children. Comprehensive Sex Education, pornographic books, drag queen performances and story hours.

Elementary students should get comprehensive sex education though. There's a correlation between teen pregnancy/STIs and a lack of sex education.

If your referring to parents paranoid that other people might be "grooming" kids, then yes. We should be skeptical of TERFs, transphobes, and hateful bigots that make their children's lives hell in the name of political ideology.

The parents are the ones grooming their kids, particularly the ones obsessed with the sexuality of their own children.

SEXUALIZE CHILDREN EARLY WITH PORN

KEEP SECRETS FROM PARENTS

Parents should not know 100% of what is happening to their children.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

It's not a straw man, it's exactly what you are arguing. You think parents should know 100% that is happening. I'm sure rapists would like to know exactly what their victims were saying too.

Burnt Toast Smell

You don't seem to understand. It is the teacher's job to protect vulnerable students from their abusive parents. Why would you tip off some rapist instead of getting the authorities involved? Why violate the trust of a student by being a snitch?

Burnt Toast Smell @burnt_smell · 52m ...

Replying to @TidalPolitics @RealUtahMan and 2 others

It depends. Kids should feel safe having some degree of privacy from their parents. If they don't feel safe coming out to their parents, it shouldn't be on teachers to snitch them out.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

You said it's not up to a teacher to have these kinds of conversations. But I've proven that's not true.

PARENTS ARE UNSAFE AND ABUSIVE

CHILDREN CAN MAKE MEDICAL DECISIONS

Children can consent to medical procedures and parents should not have access to that information. Breast binders and penis tucking is 'no big deal.'

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @Logicllustrat @EITC_Official and @OUSDNews

Minors can already consent to many medical procedures already though. Acting like giving teens binders is such a huge problem is a bunch of hot air.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

What laws require licensing to distribute binders? You gonna get mad people sell minors Spanx without a license too?

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @RealUtahMan @TidalPolitics and 2 others

Gender Marxism? Lmao what a ludicrous term. If kids feel unsafe with their parents knowing something deeply personal why would you violate that trust? Like if they said, "my dad raped me" are you going to ask the dad if that's true or contact authorities?

CONCERN IS JUST HOT AIR

TEACHERS KNOW BEST

Teachers know best and should decide what secrets to keep from 'unsafe and abusive' parents.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @TidalPolitics @RealUtahMan and 2 others

That's a red herring though. The people pushing for transparency and parental rights don't care about the safety of their children, they are just abusive control freaks afraid that their kids might have some outlet besides mom and dad to confide in.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @coolUncleCuz @RealUtahMan and 2 others

No, it isn't. If you don't like it, the block button is right there. If parents are abusing their kids then there's no obligation to tip them off. As an educator in Florida this is extremely important.

Burnt Toast Smell
@burnt_smell

Replying to @WeirdoRedBeardo and @EITC_Official

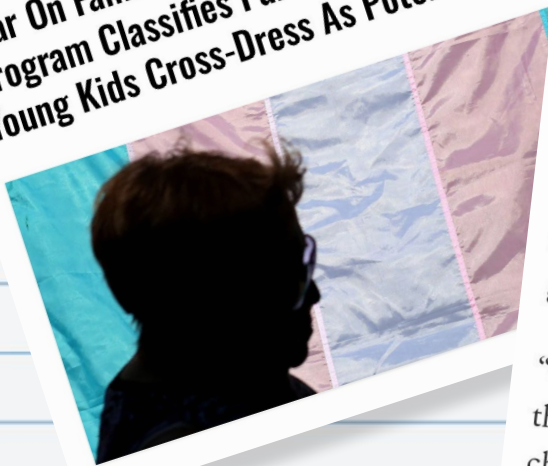

Teachers are mandated reporters. How does it protect kids to let abusive parents have access to this kind of information? Half of all homeless minors are LGBT. Think about why they no longer live with their parents.

PARENTS ARE ABUSING THEIR KIDS

THE ORIGINAL VERSION OF THIS RESOURCE WAS RELEASED IN JANUARY 2023.

In late December 2023, the Biden Administration authorized a federal agency called "The Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) Program" to make home visits and advise service providers to watch for signs of abuse against "gender-diverse children."

'War On Families': Federal 'Home Visiting' Program Classifies Parents Who Don't Let Young Kids Cross-Dress As Potentially Abusive

One document titled "Parental Acceptance of Gender Expression in Young Children" tells home visitors it is important for them to "recognize and address the abuse and neglect that may result, either directly or indirectly, from rejection of a child's gender expression."

"Gender-diverse children are frequently the targets of violence or harm — by other children, caregivers, or family members," the document states.

Abuse need not be "overt," it explains, but can look like "denying a child the right to play, dress, and act as they would like."

CALL TO ACTION

NEW QUESTION PARENTS SHOULD ASK

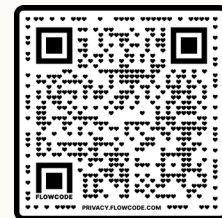

Every time a school personnel tells you, "We're just teaching about <insert virtue>," your immediate feeling should not be, "Oh good, we teach that at home too." We want you to train yourself to ask, "Through WHOSE lens is that trait being taught?"

Traits are not good or bad; it depends on the purpose for which they are being taught. Today in K-12, traits are often taught through the lens of a Critical Race Theorist pushing for anti-American values or a Transgender Cultist seeking to separate children from you.

The CMA tactics featured in this resource will be used to remove children from your custody, whether you have them in public schools, private schools, or home school. Stay on offense and fight for your children now.
