

WHAT IS RAMMP?

PART IV

ASCA'S NATIONAL MODEL

One Minute SUMMARY

WHO IS ASCA?

American School Counselor Association. They provide training and mission objectives to K-12 School Counselors.

WHERE IS ASCA LOCATED?

Headquarters is in Virginia. Chapters in all 50 states.

WHAT DOES RAMP MEAN?

Recognized ASCA Model Program

WHY SHOULD PARENTS CARE?

RAMP has become the national blueprint from ASCA on how to emotionally manipulate children to be racist activists and advocates for the LGBTQ+ Cult.

HOW IS RAMP IMPLEMENTED?

RAMP is implemented through a tool called the "Multi-Tier System of Supports" (MTSS). It is a framework that at one time was used to support students with individual needs and is now used to brainwash ALL students to absorb any current social contagion.

WHO IMPLEMENTS RAMP?

RAMP is implemented by radical school counselors from ASCA such as Emily Goodman-Scott through the weaponization of MTSS.

LET'S DIG IN

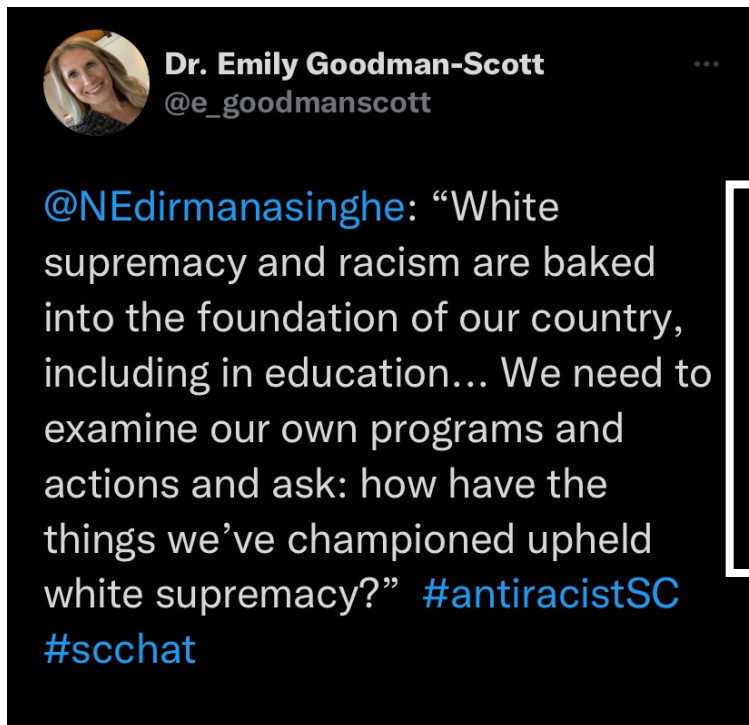

RAMP IS THE MODEL

School Counselors are expected to work as “Social Agents of Change” to eliminate racism and bias in schools. RAMP is the ASCA (American School Counseling Association) national model used by School Counselors.

“White supremacy and racism are baked into the foundation of our country, including in education.”

- Emily Goodman-Scott

Here is ASCA’s radical rising star Emily Goodman-Scott attempting to justify the need for RAMP.

“How have the things we’ve championed upheld white supremacy?”

- Emily Goodman-Scott

MTSS IS THE TOOL WITHIN RAMP

WHAT DOES MTSS MEAN?

Multi Tiered Systems of Support

WHAT IS MTSS?

Let's hear Emily Goodman-Scott explain it.

Recent racial injustice has prompted school counselors to reexamine how their practices contribute to injustice. Many school counselors seek to engage in antiracism and advocacy. Multitiered systems of support (MTSS) strategies include data utilization, systemic collaboration, and multilevel practices within a school building. This article illustrates how school counselors who use MTSS can operate with an antiracist lens to dismantle policies and practices upholding white supremacy. School counselors utilizing MTSS are well positioned to adapt antiracist strategies. Collapse

BOOKS ABOUT RAMP

"The very foundation of a school counseling program, the ASCA National Model connects school counseling with the current educational reform movement emphasizing student achievement and success as well as systemic change." - ASCA

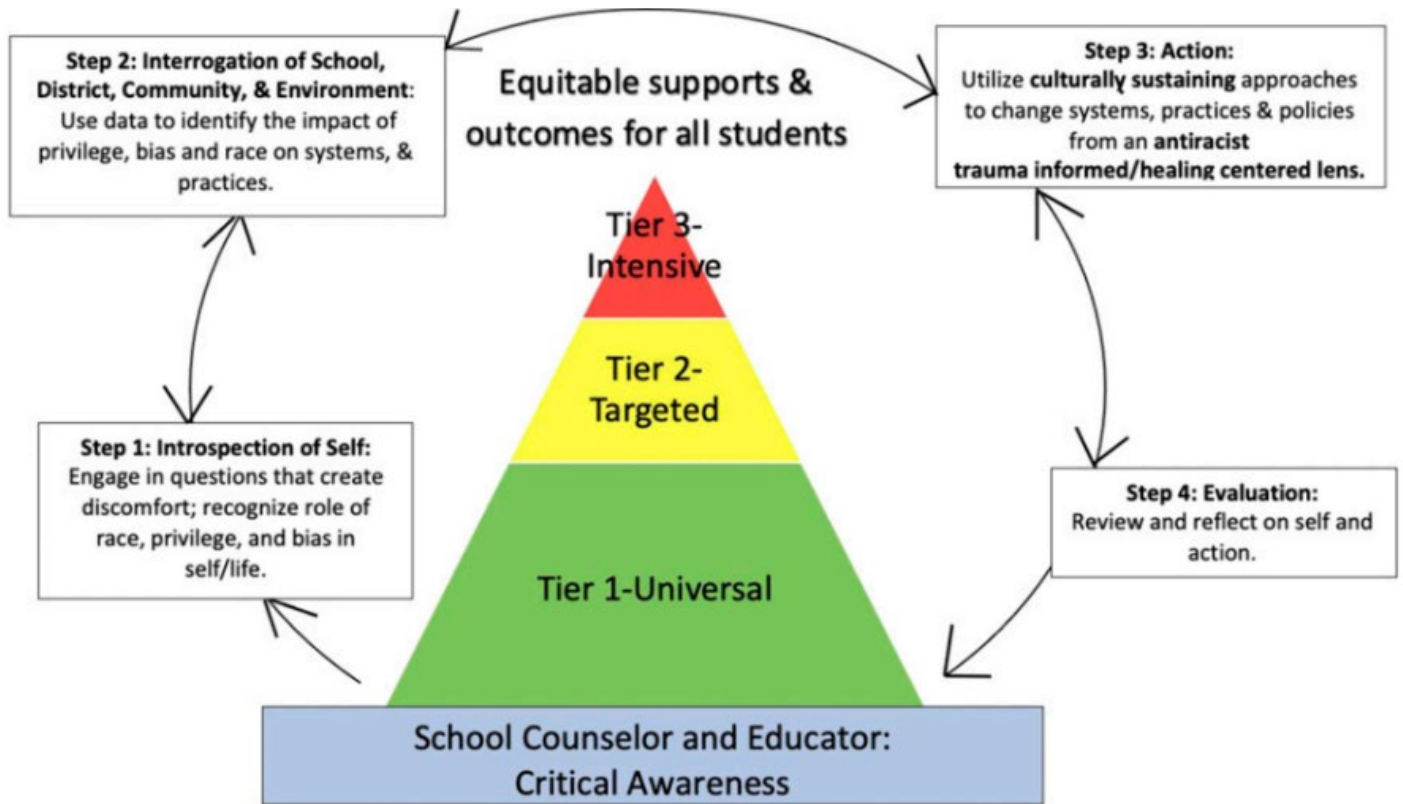

MAKING MTSS WORK

Instructs counselors on how to use cognitive and behavioral therapy to change students' values and beliefs to be mindless activists.

Emily Goodman-Scott co-authored RAMPs Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS), a comprehensive framework that addresses the social and emotional needs in education.

Tens of thousands of students walked out of Virginia's schools today to say Queer students belong in our school systems.

Our demand is simple: revoke the draft guidelines.

It's time we let everyone, including students, have a voice in our education - not just a vocal minority.

WHAT PARENTS SHOULD REALIZE...

These radical School Counselors are not spreading this propaganda on their own time. They are using taxpayer funded schools where children spend 7 hours a day as a captive audience.
